report:
First—The Syracuse matter was disposed of.
Then the New York end of the fight was decided this way:

The Report.

The Report.

"After a hearing, of which both organisations were given ample time to fully present their claims, and after very careful consideration of all the facts, your Committee beg to report that in their judgment the organisation formed under the auspices of the so-called Committee of Thirty, is the regular Republican organisation in and for the city and county of New York. If this conclusion shall become the judgment of the State Committee it will follow necessarily that the Republican County Committee, of waich William Brookfield is President, has sole jurisdiction under the constitution it has ordained of the affairs of the Republican party of that city and county.

"Perhaps it is no function of your Committee or of the body to which its report is made to dictate to any regular subordinate organization how it shall perform its duties or discharge its trusts. The existing situation in New York City is so peculiar, however, and our concern for the welfare of the whole party is so great as to compel us to report in addition to the resolution declaring the regularity of the new enrolment and organization, perfected under the supervision of the Committee of Thirty, a further resolution recommending to the Republican County Committee a policy to be pursued towards the organization formed by Mr. Milholland and his friends.

Treat Them Tenderly.

"Your Committee Again Committee of Thirty, a further resolution recommending to the Republican County Committee a policy to be pursued towards the organisation formed by Mr. Milholland and his friends.

Treat Them Tenderly.

Treat Them Tenderly.

"Your Committee does not undertake to say what is the precise numerical strength of this organization, nor is that now the chief consideration. That it possesses strength, together with elements of great usefulness to the Republican party, are facts not to be seriously disputed. If its strength is not evenly distributed throughout the city, it is undeniably strong where the Republican organization has been hitherto weak, and it has succeeded in bringing together to the gerat advantage of the party a body of carnest and aggressive Republicans eager to enlist in active work. They deserve not rebuke, but recognition and encouragement. Your Committee does not undertake to erive not reduke, but recognition and encouragement.

"It is to be borne in mind that the conditions under which this organization sprang into such vigorous existence were unique. If they did not actually justify the particular enterprise which was undertaken, they certainly afforded plausible arguments to excuse it. At all events, the "rganization of which in. Milholland is "resident does exist, and it exists as an association of Republicans.

There is not room in the county of New York for two governing bodies, and steps should at once be taken on such terms as are fair beyond question, and can be honorably accepted or both sides, for the complete obliteration of all lines suggestive of faction.

"Naturally, from the controversies that have been going on so long, strong feeling has arisen, and it will not be casily subdued or forgotten. But Republicans must recognize the incomparable opportunity that is now presented to the party, and the high and patriotic duty which compels every Republican to control considerations of personal strangers.

"Resolved, That the Republican State Committee of the State of New York, recognizes the organization of the Republicans of the City of New York, had under the supervision and direction of the so-called Committee of Thirty, as the regular Republican organization in and for the city and county of New York, and recognizes the Republican County Committee of which William Brookfield is President as the regular and duly constituted authority within and over the Republican party of the said city and county.

"Resolved, That the Republican State Committee of the State of New York recommend that provision be immediately made for the incorporation of the Republican organization of which John E. Milholland is President into the regular Republican organization, by designating two days or evenings prior to the holding of the caucuses for naming State delegates in each election district for the enrolment of all Republican organization.

"Resolved, That the Republican State Committee of the State of New York recommend that proper and just representation be given to the Republicans now enrolled in the organization of which Mr. Milholland is President in the list of election officers to act in behalf of the Republican party at the ensuing general election in the County of New York.

"Resolved, That we enjoin upon all Republicans in the County of New York the duty of uniting in one organization, and that we appeal to their particular concern for the welfare of their party for the immediate obliteration of all factional differences and for the restoration of that harmony and that common purpose which are the sure guarantee of victory in the city and throughout the State of New York.

The Committee of Thirty people are jubilant, and ten minutes after the report was made public the crowd melted away to spread the glad tidings.

Some of the opinions on the result follow:

Milholland May Fight. When the Committee adjourned, it was to meet at Sartoga, Sept. 17, at $ P. M. Immediately after the Committee re-port was made public, the Milhollandite Executive Committee went into execu-

From reliable sources, it was learned that Milholland will not accept the proposed plan of settlement.
